EYRIE A couple of game-end proposals for you to vote on; there was a third but it is defeated by a standing vote. 1) A 3-way draw I/F/E. 2) A 4-way draw I/E/F/R.
Votes on both proposals along with next season's orders please - usual rules, a failure to vote is a vote for and if both proposals are accepted the game continues.

PRESS

Russia-England I'm entirely in your hands.

Byrie-Russia I'm tempted to make a comment about butterfingers but I won't!

VIEW FROM THE EYRIE

Last issue my final comment was "the only decision seems to be between a 3 or 4 way draw". Like everyone else I was assuming that England wouldn't NMR! But NMR he has and that has thrown a new light on the game. Mun finally falls to the Italians although it is of course possible that England may take it in the Autumn. But if England should go into anarchy then the game must be over. Irrespective of the slow Italian grind against Mos & War, with England in anarchy France has a continual guessing game over Spa/Mar - a game he must eventually lose.

So it seems that this second FOE winners game is going to be decided on whether England NMR's next season or not. Another NMR and subsequent anarchy will undoubtedly give Italy the win. But sensible and well-thought out moves by England to regain Mun will mean we are back to the 3 or 4 way draw situation.

Thanks to all 20 of you that voted FOE into 17th place in 1983 Zine Poll (special thanks to the person who voted 10). Interesting to note that FOE finished 17th in it's first year of publication also. As those of you who are interested will be aware, the poll was won for the fourth time in five years by Pete Birk's Greatest Hits. What really surprised me was that votes were cast on a total of 115 different zines!! And that, I believe, adds fuel to my claim that the poll should be for UK zines only that run games of Dip.

PRESS

England-Russia Sorry about this, but there doesn't seem to be any point in delaying what is now inevitable.

England-Turkey Thank you for the compliments(?); it's quite interesting to see the sort of play you believe in! I'm afraid the compliments are quite undeserved, though. The reason why the stalemate line has been established to force the four-way draw against your drive for an outright victory over us is your own success. What else can you expect after gobbling up the Balkans, Austria, Italy, etc. so rapidly? We would have to play very badly, not to see you coming and stop your attack before you win and we all lose.

France-Turkey Why do you keep on changing your address so often? Is it to avoid paying for all those parking fines you keep on collecting?

CREDITS

Another 6 side issue, so once again this costs you 6x1p plus 16p = 22p. Overseas subscribers pay 6p plus actual cost of postage, and delivery by hand costs just 6p.

Your balance of credit is shown in the box.....

Be warned! If your zine credit is not sufficient to pay for next issue (say 30p to be on the safe side) then you must increase it or expect me to disregard your orders and not send you the zine..

Please don't send large amounts of money to top up your credit - £1 - £1-50p should be ample to pay for all remaining issues. Stamps are acceptable of course, but please send multiples of 12p or 16p, and not higher values that I find difficulty in using.
