Well there's no NMR's this time either so it looks as if F/1 is at last settling down. Unfortunately I still haven't got a full list for P/2 so I'll probably be sending out a few begging letters this week. Gamefee for P/2 is 60p and standbys will not be used. PS. My name is 3 North Road, Chester-le-Street, Co. Durham, DH3 4AQ. Tel. Ch-le-St. 883309. My address is Stephen Agar.

Press

Rome-Crete: His Holiness the Pope has agreed to grant to his Austrian friends this historic island.

France-Germany: Dear Martin, kindly don't send in press purporting to emanate from the French Government.

Russia-Italy: How long do you think it will take us to win this 'game'?

Italy-Russia: What do you mean "us"?

Berlin-France: Yes, sure I'll let you back into Burgundy, and then I'll just stand there whilst Russia supports you into Munich, okay?

London-Moscow: I am coming to get you, freedom for Norway my purpose.

Rome-Moscow: We are greatly annoyed by our rebellious Viennese army and wish to apologise for any inconvenience we have caused Russia. The Viennese army revolted after hearing rumours of an invasion of the neighbouring territory of Galicia.

Berlin-France and England: Unite against Russia and Italy now! You know it makes sense!

Rome-Berlin: I hope you are considering the matters I raised, or it may be too late.

Con-Gre/Ser and Rome: Sorry for not answering your letters but I am suffering from an acute overdose of exams. Expect replies soon.

Berlin-Russia: Thinkest thou that I was born yesterday? How many more pieces do you want surrounding Denmark?

Rome-Whoever it may concern: Anybody caught writing French press will either be excommunicated or defenestrated depending on which one he likes more than the other!

DEADLINE

Extra long because it's Christmas.

Well this has been another short issue - not even enough space to put a strip cartoon in. Pity. Ah well, goodbye.

PS. Der Garvey is still a rat, and apologies to Phil Dyson for NGC 184!
